60 MINUTES II

11/14/01 "The Vice President" - Vice President Richard Cheney talks about: the current state of the Taliban; the Northern Alliance; U.S. ground troops in Afghanistan; the whereabouts of Osama bin Laden; special military tribunals for foreigners accused of terrorism; possible involvement of Saddam Hussein; Cheney's presence at undisclosed locations for security reasons; the possibility of a new terrorist attack; and Cheney's health. (C: Gloria Borger - P: Michael Rosenbaum)

"Air War At Home" - interviews with two of the three Air National Guard fighter pilots who on September 11 were the last defense standing between United Flight 93 and its presumed target, Washington, D.C. Also includes interviews with Brigadier General Mike Gould, NORAD commander, and General Ed Eberhart, commander in chief of the North American Aerospace Defense Command, who talk about how the military is protecting America's skies in the aftermath of the terrorist attacks. (C: Scott Pelley - P: Shawn Efran)

"Educating The Enemy" - one of the bitter ironies of September 11 is that some of the hijackers relied on skills learned in America. This is such a troubling fact that just yesterday President Bush signed an order to pick up and question more than 5,000 mostly Middle-Eastern men, many of whom entered the country legally on student visas. (Vicki Mabrey - P: Michael Bronner, Christine Spolar)

Charles Grodin - looking for wisdom in these difficult times

Charles Grodin - life in Afghanistan under the Taliban

11/28/01 "The Miracle of The Pentagon" - 125 people were killed in the Pentagon on September 11. When the plane hit, it obliterated the first and part of the second floor. The third, fourth and fifth floors remained suspended in air for 35 minutes, allowing hundreds of people to escape. The answer lay in the fact that the plane had hit the only section of the Pentagon renovated to resist a terrorist attack. (C: Scott Pelley - P: Margaret Ebrahim)

"Kindertransport" - a report on Deborah Oppenheimer, executive producer of the nationally televised "Drew Carey Show," who is also the producer of a documentary about a little-known episode of World War II. The film (to premiere on HBO in December) is called "Into the Arms of Strangers" and deals with Kindertransport, trains provided by the British Government to take children from beleaguered Jewish communities to safety in England. (C: Bob Simon - P: Joel Bernstein)

"Holy Grail" - a report on studies showing the potential for curing disease with the use of stem cells from umbilical cords.
